Breakaway roping entries have substantially increased since the current payout was adopted. The largest entry this year was 78 ropers.

I have gone through all of the Canadian amateur association rule books along with the CPRA Rulebook. It appears that the CCA rulebook mirrors the CPRA rules when it comes to percentages for payout.

I propose ten (10) monies when payout is $7501.00 or greater to follow suit with the existing rule which two (2) additional places are paid with $2500.00 increases to payout.

In 2026, 5 rodeos had a payout of over $7501.00, therefore this rule does not change the payout for a large number of rodeos. Of those 5 rodeos, entries were from 52-78 ropers.

The average entry of all CCA mother rodeos combined was 44.125. Lowest being 16 and highest being 78.

I believe that having upwards of 34 additional entries from the average entry in 2026 warrants two (2) additional payout spots.
